

Mastercard

- Bachelor's degree in Data Science, Statistics, Mathematics, Computer Science, or another quantitative discipline such as Engineering, Economics, or Physics
- Experience in applying data science and machine learning to solve real business problems
- Solid foundation in statistics, analytics, and core machine learning concepts
- Experience with Python and SQL; familiarity with tools such as Pandas for data manipulation and analysis
- Exposure to large datasets and interest in scalable data processing; familiarity with Spark is a plus