

Sanofi

- Advanced degree (Master's or PhD) in Epidemiology, Biostatistics, Health Informatics, Health Economics, Pharmacoepidemiology, or a closely related quantitative discipline
- Minimum 4-5 years for Master's degree holder or 2-4 years for Doctoral degree holder of relevant experience in real-world data, commercial analytics, real-world evidence, health outcomes research, fit-for-purpose feasibility assessment, data quality assessment or a related field within the pharmaceutical, biotech, or health technology industry
- Experience in predictive modeling using RWD to identify at risk patient populations with a publication record in peer-review journals
- Experience in patient & healthcare provider segmentation to inform Medical and Commercial strategy
- Demonstrated expertise in epidemiological study design and statistical methods such as propensity score matching, descriptive statistics, regression analysis, predictive modelling.
- Strong proficiency in statistical programming languages: SQL, Python, R, and/or SAS